

2022 Science Faculty Mini Impact Symposium Part II: From Scientific Research to Social Impacts - Knowledge Transfer Project Fund (KPF) Info Session cum Talk

18 Oct 2022 (Tue) | 3:00 - 4:30 pm (Zoom Webinar)

Speaker:

Dr. Elsie TSUI

Head, Social Innovation Team,

Office of Research and Knowledge Transfer Services, CUHK

Knowledge Transfer Project Fund (KPF) is now open for applications!

KPF scheme is a CUHK funding scheme under the University's initiative in supporting professors to translate their research into community-based social impact projects. With the continuous support from the University and Social Innovation and Entrepreneurship Fund, CUHK has witnessed some successful applied research that brought about tangible social impact in the local community.

In this event, you may learn about the examples of societal impacts of knowledge transfer activities by science disciplines and how KPF and ORKTS support knowledge transfer activities.
